

SCITUATE HIGH SCHOOL CHIMES

NINETEEN HUNDRED NINETY

SCITUATE, MASSACHUSETTS

"I think I can answer that one."

"What are you doing here?"

Jen, don't worry. No one is looking at your paper.

"Am I free to go, now?"

"What a day! I just got dumped. Report cards Friday. My dog is sick. And I don't know how to do this stupid problem!"

"She said, yes!"

"They said I was too short . . . not."

"Shut up or I'll stab you with my trusty BIC."

"Will you go out with me, PLEASE?"

"We didn't do it."

"So what if I'm bored; can I help it?"

"God, she's awesome!"

"Don't ask me about the weekend, because I just don't remember."

"But Chrissy . . ."

"Shut up, Dan."

"What? I don't chew!"

"This one's for you, Reginaldo."

"Why is everyone laughing at me?"

"Are you serious?"

"Mr. Nord, what do the words in italics mean?"

"Why did we have to take midterms this year?"

"I wonder if he noticed. . ."

"I wish Ian was here."

"No, Mr. Beatty,  $2 + 2$  makes 4 not 3!"

"He's my next victim."

M.B.I.T. (Mrs. Booras in Training)

Two heads are better than one.

Even the losers need a captain to look up to!

"Just look at this face."

"No, no, I'm still awake."

"Then I'd rip her hair out."

"I can't believe I let them in my house."

Reminiscences of Spain

"I have to snap out of this."

"No, Lance, I won't show you my Playboy magazines."

"Yeah, I might be doing my work."

"No, don't, stop."

"That's absolutely, totally unreal!"

"She is tall, blonde, and gorgeous."

Guess who's having the most fun!

"Quines mas macho?"

Best buddies for life

"Do you mean we actually have to do this!"

"What's the matter? You jealous of my hair, Don?"

"Here's my Chopin piano sonata."

"Marci, this is the newest addition to my wardrobe."

"What you lookin' at, home boy?"

"Jen, I like the new hot sweater."

"Dan, are you going to eat that!?"

"Mom, what did you put in here?"

Look out — Rache's gonna lose it!

Pearl drop models

"I'm taking him to the prom."

I can't believe he's putting that there!!!

A pocketbook full of dreams

Wonder twin powers activate!

Don't ask!

Eww, is that a worm he's eating?

"Smile Kate — this is fun!"

"What's that thing wiggling on the floor?"

Minot Wall Wannabes

Moe, Larry, Curly

A Coke and five smiles

Must be the 'Drone's class . . .

"And then I saw Sammy . . ."

Fifty cents for the whole bunch

"There's nothing wrong with my attitude."

"Can I pleeeease have some more hot chocolate?"

"Mom, I swear I'll be home early."

"Bang Bang, Mr. Webber."

"What are you doing here?"

I take it you two go to Scituate High.

From her head to her toes in L'eggs panty hose

Who's the blonde, Mike?

"I finally did it; I can't believe it."

"My mom always told me never to chew on my eraser."

"And then he'd put his arms around me and . . ."

"Excuse me! Two spaces, four spaces . . . the same thing Mr. Pisano."

"I bought two cans of Halo polish this weekend."

"We don't always hold hands!"

Smile . . . it makes people wonder what you've been up to.

"I wish this guy would just go away."

"So you say I have smelly feet, huh, Mr. Parker?"

"I can't believe I went out with her!"

"It's so big!"

"Gee, my scalp is really dry."

Scars heal quickly, huh Peter?

"Can I have a bite, Greg?"

"I can't believe I did that."

"It tastes like licorice!"

Best friends

Don't ask. It's been a rough weekend.

"Absent note, what absent note?"

"You're kidding, right?"

Monday, Per. 1, 7:48 ...

"Ma, I'd like you to meet Steve and Jen."

Cedrone's child ...

"Why do they rank on me all the time?"

Now — Give me a C above high C ...

"Get off me!!!"

Get her, Leah!

"Heeelp me!"

"Christine, you nitwit."

"Wake me up when this class is over."

"What? Huh? I can't hear you; there's a pen in my ear!"

"Get away from me, Matt."

"Heeey Michelle . . ."

"She's fine!"

"Excuse me . . . hmmmm, like . . . where's the phone?"

"Alright, who stole my applications?"

"34" 24" 34", Oh you mean the dimensions of a rectangle?"

"I don't believe this is happening!"

"Creen, don't let your parents see you with that make-up on."

G.L.O.W. Gorgeous Ladies of Wrestling

Truthfully . . . who won the water fight?

What did they do to their hair?

"Hey Cowboy!"

"I don't get mad, I get even!"

Chrissy, look at the camera, not Dan's bulging muscles.

Is that the new Tommy Snelders look?

THE CLASS OF 1990 CLASS OFFICERS

PRESIDENT
MICHELLE ANNE LITZ

I'd rather live life in the fast lane and be pulled over than in the breakdown lane and be passed.

VICE PRESIDENT
PATRICK JOSEPH O'GRADY

To fail is only not to try, so give it a shot and have a blast.

SECRETARY
MARIANNE ELIZABETH DANNER

A friend is one who always is.

TREASURER
DENISE MARIE MELISSA MUTCHLER

There's a road in the distant sun where the eagles fly with the doves. If you can't be with the one you love, love the one you're with.

KRISTIN RALLY ADAMS

For in the dew of little things the heart finds its morning and is refreshed.

ALLISON ALLAN

If one should ever change his faith, it'll be because he no longer thinks he is God. (He finally realized it was me.)

ELIZABETH ALVES

I am happy I'm out of here!

STEPHEN BACKUS

Be as immature as you can for as long as possible.

ROBERT C. BAGLEY

Beware my friends, as you pass by, as you are now, so once was I, as I am now, so you must be, prepare my friends to follow me.

CHRISTINA ELIZABETH BARBOSA

The future is coming, the present is passing and the past is remembered . . . forever, yours.

And here I was.

Stop it!!! You thilly Willy

STEVEN PATRICK BAROVE

You can't cry over spilt milk; but without oreos, you're up the creek anyway.

TIMOTHY DAVID BEALE

Never argue with a fool; people might not know the difference.

ELIZABETH C. BEECHER

Better by far to forget and smile than to remember and be sad.

JOHN O'DONOGHUE BELLIVEAU

I'd rather laugh with the sinners than cry with the saints, because the sinners are much more fun.

BRIAN BILLINGS

ERIC T. BLACKBURN

A wise man sits silently and allows people to wonder if he is wise or a fool; while a fool opens his mouth and releases all doubt.

MATT STORY BLANCHARD

Don't believe that winning is really everything. It's more important to stand for something. If you don't stand for something, what do you win?

CHRISTOPHER BLAUNER

Take a chance! All life is a chance. The man who goes furthest is generally the one who is willing to do and dare.

JAMES ARTHUR BOUGOULAS

As life goes on, remember your goal. Keep your eyes upon the doughnut and not upon the whole.

"But, I just got my hair cut."

"If I pull this lever, you'll disappear."

"Would you please translate that so I can write it down?"

"Have smiles, will travel."

"I thought adjectives ended in -LY."

"See, I brushed my teeth this morning . . ."

". . . and so did I."

"Aw, cut it out, Patrick!"

"I heard that one, before . . ."

" . . . and it wasn't funny then, either . . ."

" . . . well, I thought it was good for a chuckle."

"Guess what we know."

"And, in this bag . . ."

" . . . you better leave it there."

"Let's see, adjectives end in -ion . . .?"

Girls, beware of guys with a smile like this.

"I wish I knew a guy with a smile like that."

"Mr. Wall, we all got A's!"

Hello, Mars?

"We know what viernes means."

Do you suppose either one knows which way is up?

"Danny, if you're cooking that for me, forget it . . ."

" . . . but it's my specialty."

"Yeah, I'm lookin' at you, buddy."

"... and I'm just chucklin'."

"... and I'm takin' a nap."

Any questions?

"I've got a secret."

"I need some more for this plate . . ."

"... I've got 'em right here."

1990 CLASS HISTORY

The year 1986 was when it all began. Our high school years had started, we were in a new land. The first day we had the school all to ourselves. We found our way around — with our peer leaders' help. The next day was different. We were all in for a surprise. The freshman girls died when they saw all the "awesome" senior guys. We were sure Kristina's love for Teddy and Tommy by now would have changed, but some things just don't. Some things remain the same. A little into the year homecoming came. We all gathered for a rally; we hoped to win the game. We yelled real loud and cheered "let's go!!!" 'till the cheerleaders ranked on us and we sank real low. The next night was the homecoming dance. The scattermungans got shot down; they all had no chance!!! We danced the night away and all had a blast. Good times were to come; we were in high school at last!!! On weekends we still had to call Mom for a ride because we were so young, none of us could drive. We still found ourselves down the harbor a lot, movie theatre tickets were what we still bought!! Later on in the year we had to sell tickets for our "cool" dance. We thought we were with it!! Brave little sellers were Zippy Kinsella and Jenn Lee, too bad they got chased right out of Cafeteria B!!!

Soon after that was our class trip. We had some luck for this year none of our buses blew up!! We were off to Riverside to have a good time, to play some games and get sick on some rides. As we were passing through Agawam we soon found out, it was their last day of school — without a doubt!!! For they were grown up, let me tell you, real mature. They got off on throwing eggs at our buses; we wanted war!!! The next year would be different, there was a little change for someone new would rule. Things would not be the same. When Steve Barove made his speech, he got lots of applause, the new kid in town would make all our laws. At the end of the year a warm feeling was felt. Summer was coming and our cliques seemed to melt. We would soon be sophomores, time to grow up. No longer could we get away with goofy freshman stuff.

We became sophomores in the year of 87 and our favorite song was "Stairway to Heaven." Our sophomore dances were all the same, the upperclassmen laughed and nobody came.

We now felt more comfortable in our new school, we ate in Cafe A and thought we were cool. The classes got hard. The work was tough and when the weekend was over, Monday morning was rough. When Homecoming came we gave it our best. We screamed so loud we deafened the rest. When it was time to select our court we were ready, we all stomped our feet as we yelled for Dave Coletti. Our sophomore boat trip was both wild and wet but the dance floor was so crowded it was a puddle of sweat. We danced the night away, the music was loud. We were the sophomore class and weren't we proud? The dance floor was but a small square but we had fun and didn't even care. We weren't old enough to drive, but we didn't fuss, every morning we were out there to hop on the bus. We abandoned the theory of having to have a pass. Why would anyone ask, everyone loved our class!! It was nearing the end of sophomore year, next year the dreaded SAT we would fear. The school, our class was a big hit. Well, for sophomore year, I guess that was it.

It's junior year and we're finally upperclassmen. We had to buckle down, the work was harder than it had been. We were finally promoted to eat in Cafe B. There we would study for the SAT. Faculty planned it, so we were all bumming, the very same day we had Scituate's homecoming. We took spirit week, no one could stop us because we were the juniors and therefore obnoxious. At the dance our class was quite a fright, half the juniors couldn't even go home that night. On Halloween night it was the regular spot, we outran the cops and no one was caught. From Thanksgiving to Christmas our outlook was bleak. Until Phil Lunch had a party that lasted all weekend. By this time February was here; the plans for the prom were becoming quite clear. The class that we were, acting so cool, were the first in a while to be let out of school. On class day we said adios to those seniors at last. Now the school was ours to show them how it was done. We all got dismissed to start having some fun. The school was in shock and they are still; little did they know we were right up the hill. The first junior skip day, never to be topped, came and we're the class of 90 and ready to rock.

Summer was over and our last year was here, no more beach parties, the winter was near. Double sessions started with high expectations, although the football team was still on vacation. The soccer team did well although not well enough. By the end of the year they proved they were more than just tough. Sandwich finished hockey thought they had reached their peak but after meeting Scituate, they lost their winning streak. The girls soccer team went straight to the tourney but meeting Cardinal Spellman was the end of their journey. The cross-country team ran and ran . . . and ran and ran. Fall sports were over, no games or coaches find us Friday night at nine, leaving Roche's. Our Powder Puff Game did have a chaperon, but ask Marianne if any eggs were thrown. Plenty of parties but time to get serious, frantic parents and students got delirious. After years of study and gaining the knowledge, it was finally time to apply for college. So many places, where should I go? Ask Becker or Grady, they'll probably know. Soon the anthill was covered with snow, a warm house is where we wanted to go. We went to DeLisle's when we got the call, too bad the night ended up in a brawl. Christmas break and vacation soon were here. Party at Howie's to bring in the new year. Many memories come from that night, Hey, Gatesy, her bark ain't worse than her bite. The day February 13 was his final day, off to the Army was our good friend Ray. Before the dinner dance it was to Lynch's we went and at Barker a great time was spent. April came and seniorities kicked in waiting to take our southward spring spin. Some mornings we would wake up a little unsure but back to school, one more month to endure. Senior skip day was here and we did it right, DeLisle's by day and Logan's by night. On May 18 we did make some noise. It was just the junior girls with ALL the senior boys. We are here for one last time together, The Class of 1990 will party forever.
